

PRESIDENCY VISITS CHOIR

Tabernacle Singers Honored and Instructed by Pres. Smith And Counselors.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE.

Unfailing Presence of All Members Enjoined Upon Everyone—Stirring Selections Rendered.

The tabernacle choir had an unusually interesting meeting last night, being visited by the first presidency. Over 400 members crowded the choir platform and ranged well up towards the ceiling. The singers greeted their distinguished visitors with a hearty round of applause as they entered. At their request the choir sang a few stirring selections, including the "Hallelujah" (Handels), Stephens and Whitney's "Ood and Maroz," "Peace be Still," after which President Joseph F. Smith took the conductor's stand, and in a feeling and earnest address told the singers how much their efforts were appreciated; how important their services were to the church; how the fame of the tabernacle choir and organ have spread the world over, and how necessary it was that this good name be preserved and lived up to, that the thousands of strangers who visit us yearly and come with great anticipations be not disappointed, nor think our good reputation not well earned.

Continuing, he said in part: "People of intelligence and learning travel, and they hear and see you here, and when they compare what they see and hear, when this glorious choir is present in goodly numbers and in goodly singing, with the evil reports and calumnies spread over the world relative to our people, they say in their hearts, 'A people who are so prominent in the fine arts, and who sing like that, can neither be bad nor ignorant,' and their hearts are softened to the truth."

"We realize the sacrifices you make in giving your labors here, and appreciate, and commend you for it. But when we consider that we live to do good to the human race and that our time is usually freely given to spread and promulgate the truth, we feel that you, too, feel well repaid for all your time and labors in the knowledge that you are in a most effective way doing this. Your labors here are indeed those of effective missionaries. Further are truly sermons that reach the heart of many listeners."

"President Smith then admonished them that this duty could only be performed through constant punctual, and regular attendance to both rehearsals and meetings, and assured them that it was expected of them to consider this duty of tabernacle choir labor first and foremost on the nights or days when the choir was in session, and that no other local church duty should be permitted to stand in their way to perform properly this duty. In case of any such conflict the members should at once consult the local authorities and have the matter adjusted so that this service which was asked of the musically gifted of our people in the interest of the church at large should not be interfered with or crippled through attendance of duties which either might be performed at other times, or transferred to other hands not needed in the choir. Thursday nights and Sabbath afternoons the choir members were urged to be prompt, and to donate their time wholly to its labors.
He said the stake and ward authorities would again be appealed to aid in such arrangements."

After giving his heartfelt blessing to the officers and members of the choir, and exhorting its leader and organist, he called upon President John R. Winder to say a few words, the veteran president did so in a happy vein illustrating the condition of the choir leader when members were absent with an anecdote of the organ blower who threatened to shut off the organ's sight the wind if he was not included as part performer, and "We" used instead of "I" in future by the organist.

He said to the great amusement of all present "When you remain away from your places, you virtually shut off Director Stephens' wind, and he is helpless to bring forth from the choir the grand musical effects he has trained you to produce."

President Anthon H. Lund then made a few kindly remarks urging all to a faithful attendance to this duty, and commenting on the beautiful sight the vast body of singers before him presented.

The choir then stood up and sang as perhaps never before Stephens' "Let the Mountains Sing," "Joy," "Damessing with the Doxology and benediction by Pres. Smith. It was an evening long to be remembered by the choir and every singer felt in his heart to say, "God bless you both, come again."

COURT NOTES.

Two damage suits were filed in the district court today against A. and J.
McDonald, contractors, and L. J.
Mensch, contractor, contracting the Utah Savings & Trust company building on East Temple street between Second and Third South. Bert Berthold is plaintiff in one case, and asks judgment for $5,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been received while working on said building on Oct. 2, 1906. It is alleged that a defective scaffolding upon which plaintiff was working gave way and he fell a distance of about 16 feet, severely injuring his back and resulting in his inability to work for some time to come. Newark S. Dawson is plaintiff in the other case and he asks judgment for $4,000 for injuries received on the same date and in the same manner as Berthold.

Judge Morse today granted Mary F.
Sunborn a divorce from John H. Sanborn on the ground of desertion. The parties were married at Kalamazoo, Mich., on Aug. 2, 1887, and defendant deserted plaintiff on July 11, 1903, and she has not heard from him since but he is informed that he is now in Santa Domingo.

The cases which were set on the supreme court for today were argued yesterday afternoon and taken under advisement and the court did not hold a session today but adjourned until Monday.

The supreme court has heard arguments in the following cases and took them under advisement: P. W.
Little et al vs Henry Blank, appellant; J. A. McCollum vs the Southern Pacific company, appellant. The case of Mrs.
T. L. M. Smith vs the Mine & Smelter Supply company, appellant, was continued to Oct. 17.

Judge Lewis has rendered judgment by default in favor of plaintiffs in the case of A. D. Teasdale et ux vs John H. Kelson for the sum of $2,550, with interest and costs of suit.
The action was brought to recover on a judgment rendered against defendant in the district court in 1898.

In the $10,000 damage suit brought by E. J. McElwain against C. H. Roberts, Judge Lewis has rendered a judgment in favor of defendant for costs of suit.
The action was brought to recover the above amount because of an assault alleged to have been made upon plaintiff by defendant at Bingham on Oct.
3, 1906. The plaintiff and his attorney did not appear in court today when the case was called, so judgment was entered in favor of defendant.

Suit for divorce has been filed in the district court by May Batt against T. H. Batt on the ground of failure to support. They were married on Nov. 25, 1896, and have two children of whom plaintiff asks the custody.
She also asks for a reasonable sum as alimony.
